Two Types of Deals

Same Spread, Different Protection

Assignment

Sell the Contract

- ✓ Cheaper and faster. One closing, lower cost.
- ⚠ Once you assign it out, you're no longer a party and you lose control of the deal.
- ⚠ Texas law requires you to disclose your equitable interest in writing.

Double Close

Two Full Closings

- ✓ You stay a party to both closings. Full control, start to finish.
- ✓ Buy and Sale prices stay private. Nobody sees your spread.
- ✓ Needs funds to close the frontside: yours or transactional.

THE PROTECTED DEFAULT

Myers allows both. Either way, you always disclose material facts.

Playable version. Open the DRILL file in the Myers University folder, or from the desktop sidebar.

Two Types of Deals Sort It

Assignment or Double Close? Call each statement.

Same spread, different protection.

Six statements. Sort each one: is that Assignment, or Double Close?

Sort the First One

Final

Three Parties, Two Contracts

You're the Principal in the Middle: Two Contracts, Two Closes

You resell the contract, not the house. C's funds pay A at the title company.

Final

One House. Two Myers Agents.

How Every Deal Flows Through Myers

One deal, two Myers agents. One buys the house, one sells it.

Rules for Every Agent, From Day One

Not Role-Specific: These Bind Every Myers Agent the Moment You Join

Verify Before You Disclose

No address, no showing time, no flyer until the MVP is signed. No exceptions.

Keep It Off the Open Market

Never reveal an address or showing time in any public post, ad, or listing.

Report All Deals

Every brokered or wholesaled deal gets reported to Myers. Only exception: properties you rent, flip, or hold yourself.

TREC Logo Compliance

The Myers logo on all marketing where TREC requires it.

Unreported deals create legal liability for you and the brokerage, and breach your agent agreement. These four are day-one rules, not eventually rules.

The Six Questions Every Investor Will Ask

They'll Test Every Rule, Usually in the First Conversation. Hold the Line.

🗨️ "Can I get in before showings?"

YES & NO

Occupied: no. Vacant: yes.

🗨️ "Will you take $3K as the deposit?"

NO

$5,000, non-refundable. Wire or cashier's check only.

🗨️ "Are closing dates negotiable?"

NO

Closing dates are firm, and set by Myers.

🗨️ "Can you assign the contract to me?"

NO

Every deal double closes through Myers' title company.

🗨️ "Can you cover your side of closing costs?"

NO

The investor covers the closing costs.

🗨️ "Will you pay my commission for a referral?"

IT DEPENDS

Usually no. Investors cover their own agent.

Always get an offer, even below the starting price. An offer below start can still work, and it proves they're serious.

Playable version. Open the DRILL file in the Myers University folder, or from the desktop sidebar.

The Six Questions Hold the Line

Every investor will test the rules. Answer like a Myers agent.

— — — — —

An investor is calling.

They will test every rule you just learned, usually in the first conversation. Pick the answer a Myers agent gives.

Closing Out the Bid

When Your Investor Is Announced the Winner, This Is How It Plays Out

The AA has final say as they're legal parties to the contract, and may pick a lower bid they trust more.

1

SA

Send the backside contract & wire instructions immediately.

2

INVESTOR

Investor signs first, delivers the $5,000, and sends proof.

Within 2 hours of the winner being announced.

3

SA

The SA posts the receipt screenshot to Slack.

4

SA

Capture the lender.

If hard money, get the lender's name, phone, and email. The AA may call to confirm.

5

AA

AA signs last.

Only after the investor has signed and the deposit is confirmed. Investor first, AA last, no exceptions.

6

SA

Open title.

The SA sends the executed contract to the investor and opens title with Myers' designated title company.

Myers never accepts an offer until the investor is fully committed.

Playable version. Open the DRILL file in the Myers University folder, or from the desktop sidebar.

Pre-Showing Checklist

Disclose to Your Investor Before Going Out to a Showing

The $5,000 Deposit

It is not earnest money; it's paid directly to Myers.

The Two-Hour Clock

The moment a winner is announced, the SA sends the backside contract; the investor signs and delivers the deposit within two hours of the showing ending. Say it out loud up front.

Higher Closing Costs

Have them budget ~3% of purchase price (higher as a % on cheaper homes; a $10k home still carries a $200–400 escrow fee).

Financing / Funding Source

Cash, line of credit, or hard money. If hard money: experience, lender, requirements, and confirm no appraisal (an appraisal means the lender needs further access).

Closing Timeline

And their ability to perform on time.

Leasebacks / Lease Transfers

If the seller is staying or a tenant is moving out, disclose terms and dates up front.

Playable version. Open the DRILL file in the Myers University folder, or from the desktop sidebar.

Pre-Showing Checklist The Disclosure Run

Your investor is meeting you at the property. Tap everything you disclose before the showing.

Six disclosures. Three traps.

Nine cards below. Six belong in the pre-showing conversation.
Three should never leave your mouth. Tap only what you disclose.
